

NEED MONEY FOR GOOD WORK

Plans of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

What "A Million for Tuberculosis from Red Cross Souls" will do in providing some of the 275,000 beds needed at once in the United States for consumptives, is explained in a recent bulletin of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. There is just about one bed for every ten indigent consumptives, and if all tuberculosis persons in the country are counted, both rich and poor, hardly one for every 25 or 30. If sufficient hospital accommodations are provided only for those who are too poor to pay the full price for their treatment fully 275,000 more beds in special institutions for tuberculosis will be needed at once. The immense outlay necessary to provide and maintain so many beds in hospitals, makes it imperative, the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis declares, that such institutions be erected from public money, either municipal, county or state. In order to get appropriations for public hospitals for tuberculosis, agitation is necessary, and in order to create a campaign of agitation, organization is demanded. But in order that an organization may carry on an effective campaign, funds are needed.

These funds it is proposed to secure in as many communities as possible from the sale of Red Cross seals.

She Probably Could.

Senator La Follette, apropos of certain scandals, said at a dinner in Madison: "These things recall the legislator who remarked to his wife, with a look of disgust: 'One of those land lobbyists approached me today with another insulting proposition.'"

"The wife, a young and pretty woman, clapped her hands. 'Oh, good!' she cried. 'Then I can have that sable stole after all, can't I, dear?'"

A Perennial Mystery.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. At the First Try.

"What do you think of my doughnuts, George?"

"Dear, you are a wonder!"

"Do you think so, really, darling?"

"I certainly do. Scientists have been trying for years to produce artificial rubber, and here you do it the first rattle out of the box."

Resinol Quickly Cures Itis and Accidents the Skin is Subject To, Also Heals Wounds.

I find occasion almost daily to recommend Resinol to some of my friends, and hear of most gratifying results. We use the ointment altogether in my family, and are never without a jar of it, for it promptly cures the itis and accidents the skin is subject to. D. M. Castle, Philadelphia, Pa.

An Exacting Personage.

"I suppose you find life easier since the summer boarders have gone?"

"Nope," replied Farmer Cornstossel; "we're workin' an' worryin' just as much as ever tryin' to keep the hired man contented."

A Costly Pet.

A year or so ago a Montana boy captured a young squirrel and took him home and made a pet of him. The little animal was given free range of the house and seemed content, and his owner was several times offered $2 for him. A few days ago a roll of $100 was missed, and, after a long hunt, it was found that the squirrel had torn the bills to pieces to make a nest of. He was a fried squirrel next day.

A New Napoleon Statue.

Gen. Niox recently discovered in the State statue repository a bronze statue of Napoleon I by Seurre, of which the Invalides only possesses a plaster replica. Teachers' Pension for St. Louis and Kansas City

If successful at the polls it will place Missouri abreast of other states that have adopted teachers' pension legislation, with uniformly good results, but will not add one cent to state taxes.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 1

Authorizing the cities of St. Louis, Kansas City and St. Joseph to inaugurate a

POLICE PENSION SYSTEM

It does not increase state taxes.

It is a progressive measure.

It promotes greater efficiency.

The unanimous endorsement of the daily press in the three cities affected—St. Louis, Kansas City and St. Joseph—is a pretty good indication that all classes of people can safely support the measure. Speaking of it, the St. Louis Republic declares that "if there is in this city any opposition to the amendment it has not been located." The Globe-Democrat denominates it "a meritorious measure, which should receive the friendly consideration of the voters of Missouri." In the opinion of the Post-Dispatch the pension "would raise the standard of service," and the Star-Chronicle agrees with that idea, adding that "it would remove the temptation to graft." To quote from the newspapers of Kansas City and St. Joseph, would be but to repeat the favorable expressions of the St. Louis papers. The newspapers of both cities all approve and commend the measure to the voters of the state. The Boards of Police Commissioners of the three cities, who are certainly most vitally interested in maintaining the efficiency of the force, give their unqualified sanction to the measure. Governor Hadley clearly expresses his approval, saying: "I favor the proposed amendment to provide for a pension system for those police officers who may be injured in the performance of their duties." Former Governor Folk believes that the "men who serve the public faithfully for years on the small salary police officers get, should not be left in the evening of life as objects of charity. The certainty of support as long as they live and do their duty will make the officers do better work, and have a tendency to remove them from those influences that tend to improper practices." Both the Republican and Democratic State Press Associations have approved the measure, showing it to be wholly non-partisan.

With such commendation by the strongest and worthiest forces of the state, the amendment ought to carry. But it rests with the voters of the state to see that it does carry. Remember, it needs your vote.

MISSOURI STATE NEWS

The Largest Farmer Dead.

David Rankin of Tarkio, who made farming his business and made that business pay wonderfully, is dead. The end came following an attack of paralysis. When David Rankin was first married 60 years ago, he had only $5 to pay the preacher and made his start in life. When he died he was possessed of 23,000 acres of as fine land as lies out of doors, equipped with the very best in live stock and machinery, and an estate estimated to be worth anywhere from $4,000,000 to $5,000,000. He made it all in farming, or rather in stock raising. He was said to be the world's largest farmer and yet he seldom sold any of his products, more frequently buying corn by the hundred thousand bushels. He never believed in marketing the raw product of the soil. He could make more money by transmitting his grain into beef and pork. David Rankin was born in Sullivan county, New York, in 1825, and was 85 years old May 28, last. His parents moved to Illinois when he was a boy and lived on a farm in Monmouth county. He served three terms in the Illinois legislature as a Republican. In 1874 he moved to Atchison county, Missouri, bought a farm there and began to grow corn and to feed it to cattle. He prospered and put his profits into more land. Land that cost him $10 and $15 an acre is now valued at $100 and more. Some of it cost him as much as $80 an acre, but none of it has decreased in value. The land is not all in one tract, but consists of about 15 separate tracts, each of which is under a superintendent, but all of them under Mr. Rankin's supervision. It takes about 700 teams to work his farm and anywhere from 300 to 500 men. In some years he has fed as many as 10,000 cattle and an equal number of hogs. It was only an ordinary year that didn't bring a profit of more than $10,000.

Negro Girls Not Desired.

The state school for negro incorrigible girls probably will not be located near Sedalia. The first site selected by the commission was rejected by Governor Hadley, after remonstrance was signed by the residents of the neighborhood. A second site was chosen three miles southwest of the city, but again there was a remonstrance on the ground that the sewerage of the school would pollute the city's water supply. Surveyors found this was true and it is certain that Governor Hadley will place his veto upon the second site. Both Governor Hadley and Attorney General Major have become convinced that almost the entire people of Pettis county are opposed to locating the school in this community and the belief now prevails that the school will not be built near Sedalia.

Kansas City Theaters.

At the Grand for a week, beginning October 30, George Barr McCutcheon's "Graustark" will be the attraction. The best company that ever presented this beautiful play in the west is with the production this year with entirely new scenery and costumes.

The Willis Wood management will present a double bill during the week beginning Sunday, October 30. "Polly of the Circus" will be the attraction during the first four nights. Thursday, Friday and Saturday night and Saturday matinee the remarkably successful domestic drama, "The Spendthrift," will be the offering.

Tim Murphy, one of the most original comedians on the American stage, will appear at the Shubert during the week of October 30, in his latest success, "Mr. Opp," by the author of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch." The scenes are all laid in Kentucky and are delightfully funny.

Loses Its Jury Commission.

The jury commission law no longer applies in Buchanan county. This is because of the disclosures of the recent government census. The law in question provides that petty jurors shall be selected by the jury commission in every county of this state now containing, or which may hereafter contain, a city having, according to the last preceding national census, more than 100,000 inhabitants and less than 400,000 inhabitants.
